

What is the Rapture Letter and Ideas How to Use It

The Rapture Letter was conceived as a way to communicate what the Rapture is, how to prepare for it, how to explain what happened after the fact, and how to deal with it if you are left behind. It is my hope that it would encourage those who have not yet given their lives over to Jesus Christ that they would do so in advance of the Rapture.

I got the idea from the original “Left Behind” movie where the pastor left a video tape for those who were left behind. I have always wanted to do that but a video seemed a little daunting so I wrote the letter, which turned out to be a bigger project than I envisioned too.

I originally created a personalized version in Microsoft Word, printed it out, and sent it to all of my family members naively thinking they would appreciate it and store it away somewhere to be viewed at a later date when they might need it. If you would like the word doc email me at info@bri2015.org and I will be happy to send it to you so you can personalize it any way that you would like. I sent the pdf version to Office Max and had them print it in color on good paper, bound it, and put a clear plastic cover and stiff back so it would last a while. I then mailed them to everyone I knew.

Well, the letter was received in different ways. One burned it, another gave it away not wanting to believe anything in it. Others stuffed it away in a closet, others read it and used it as an informative outline of future events.

Ideas for sharing the letter:

Email the pdf document to whomever you wish

Print it out and give it out

Have it professionally printed and give them out

Print out many and place them wherever, Dr office, parking lot, work, bulletin boards, laundry mat ...

I would love to hear how you are sharing the letter, send me an email and I will compile the ideas here
